

Child protection in emergencies

Child protection in emergencies is defined as the prevention of and response to abuse, neglect, exploitation, and violence against children. Emergencies both exacerbate pre-existing protection concerns and create new ones. This occurs as disasters, conflict and crises introduce new risks to the affected population and reduce children and communities' protective mechanisms. The range of protection concerns faced by children in humanitarian contexts comprises:

- Dangers and injuries
- Physical violence and harmful practices
- Sexual violence
- Psychosocial distress and mental disorders
- Children associated with armed forces and armed groups
- Child labour
- Unaccompanied and separated children
- Justice for children

Background and purpose of the data collected

The Child Protection Working Group (CPWG), established in 2007, is a sub-group of the Global Protection Cluster, and brings together a range of global-level partners who work in or support child protection in emergencies. One important aspect of their work is advocacy to promote a better understanding of and support for child protection in emergencies. This report has been developed by the CPWG for child protection practitioners, donors and decision-makers within and outside of the child protection sector. The purpose of the data collected is to:

- Communicate the state of child protection in emergencies globally;
- Support assessments of child protections issues and capacity at country level; and
- Provide a baseline for tracking progress on child protection.

Method

Data has been collected on the 42 countries that have a Humanitarian Coordinator or that were on the Inter- Agency's Standing Committee Early Warning Early Action list at the time of writing (March 2015). Sources are the following: UN Population Fund (2015 projections), World Health Organization, Global Status Report on Violence Prevention (2014), UNICEF Global Databases (2014, MICS and DHS surveys), Child Helpline International Databases (2014) and the Social Services Workforce Training report (2014). Data Marked by a + has been provided or updated by the child protection coordination group in country.

Acknowledgements

As mentioned above the data compiled is based on work carried out by several different agencies working in the areas of violence prevention and child protection. The CPWG also wishes to thank Helen Johnson who carried out the coordination and data management of the entire project.

DEFINITIONS

VIOLENCE PREVENTION PROGRAMMES

Home visiting: Programmes involve visits by nurses to parents and infants in their homes, to provide support, education, and information. Some home visiting programmes can substantially reduce child maltreatment and associated outcomes such as injuries.

Parenting education: Programmes aim to improve child-rearing skills, increase knowledge of child development and encourage positive child management strategies. Parenting education programmes show great promise in preventing child maltreatment and promoting positive parenting and child behaviour

Pre-school enrichment: Programmes introduce young children to the skills necessary for success in school, thereby increasing the likelihood of future academic success. Preschool enrichment programmes can reduce arrests for violence among those aged 20-24 years by up to 40%.

Youth life skills & social development training: Programmes are designed to help older children and adolescents manage anger, resolve conflict and develop the necessary social skills to solve problems. Life skills training programmes can reduce adolescent violence by up to 29%.

Youth mentoring: Programmes match a young person at high risk of antisocial behaviour or growing up in a single-parent family with a caring older person from outside the family. Mentoring can reduce illicit drug initiation, truancy and other risk factors for youth violence.

Sexual violence school & college programmes: Programmes are designed to raise awareness, address gender norms, bystander behaviours, and knowledge and attitudes about rape and sexual assault. Few programmes have been rigorously evaluated, suggesting a critical gap to fill.

Sexual violence physical environment changes: Include improving formal and informal surveillance, better lighting of public areas and interventions to encourage the use of public spaces. While promising, more research is needed to evaluate their specific effects on sexual violence.

Sexual violence social & cultural norms change: Programmes aim to modify norms of male sexual entitlement, and can reduce attitudes and beliefs that are supportive of sexual violence. Rigorous evaluations of social and cultural norm change strategies are still needed to assess their impact; however, they remain an important strategy to inform and create cultural shifts in what is acceptable and unacceptable behaviour.

Intimate partner violence social & cultural norms change: Strategies aim to modify social expectations, such as the norm that men have the right to control women, which make women vulnerable to physical, emotional and sexual violence by men. Rigorous evaluations of social and cultural norm-change strategies are still needed to assess their impact; however, they remain an important strategy to inform and create cultural shifts in what is acceptable and unacceptable behaviour and in promoting norms supportive of healthy, non-violent, and gender equitable relationships.

Child sexual abuse avoidance training: Programmes teach children about body ownership, the difference between good and bad touch, how to say "no" and how to disclose abuse to a trusted adult. They can increase children's knowledge of what to do if they encounter a potentially abusive situation.

CHILD PROTECTION INDICATORS

FGM/C - girls: Percentage of girls 0-14 years old who have undergone FGM/C (as reported by their mothers).

FGM/C - women: Percentage of women 15-49 years old who have undergone FGM/C.

FGM/C - support for the practice: Percentage of women 15–49 years old who have heard about FGM/C and think the practice should continue.

Child marriage - by age of 15: Percentage of women aged 20 to 24 years who were first married or in union before ages 15.

Child marriage - by age of 18: Percentage of women aged 20 to 24 years who were first married or in union before ages 18.

Justification of wife beating - male/female: Percentage of women and men 15–49 years old who consider a husband to be justified in hitting or beating his wife for least one of the following reasons; his wife burns the food, argues with him, goes out without telling him, neglects the children or refuses sexual relations.

Violent discipline of children: Percentage of boys/girls 2–14 years old who experience any violent discipline (psychological aggression, physical punishment).

Child labour: Percentage of boys/girls 5–14 years old involved in child labour at the time of the survey. A child is considered to be involved under the following conditions: (a) children 5–11 years old who, during the reference week, did at least one hour of economic activity or at least 28 hours of household chores, or (b) children 12–14 years old who, during the reference week, did at least 14 hours of economic activity or at least 28 hours of household chores.

Total birth registration: Percentage of children less than 5 years old who were registered at the time of the survey.

NATIONAL CHILD HELPLINES; DEFINITIONS OF VIOLENCE, ABUSE AND EXPLOITATION USED TO CATEGORISE CALLS

Physical Abuse: One of the three main forms of abuse (physical, emotional, and sexual), physical abuse is the exertion of physical_force against a child with the intention of hurting or injuring the victim. Physical abuse can occur within the home, in public institutions (schools, police custody) and in public.

Emotional Abuse: Emotional abuse is the pervasive lack of display of love and affection toward a child by an adult entrusted with his care and development, or by another child in a position of authority. This includes constant belittlement, blaming, criticizing, as well as intentionally failing to display emotion to a child, such as not smiling at a child or simply not acknowledging a child's existence by not looking at him or exclusively engaging a child in a closed and confining emotional relationship.

Sexual Abuse: There are several forms of sexual abuse. This includes sexual penetration, which consists of sexual intercourse with a child; the intentional exposure of a child to sexual activity, such as showing and/or taking sexually explicit or implicit pictures of the child telling jokes or stories of a sexual nature; tickling in erogenous zones and demanding to be tickled in return. Pressure is usually exerted by an adult or another child in a position of authority. This includes rape and incest. Commercial Sexual Exploitation is also Sexual Abuse for CHI purposes.

Violence: The intentional use of power to control a child through obvious and not so obvious ways, including any action or word intended to hurt another person, whether through intimidation, verbal acts or bodily threats. Many helplines use violence interchangeably with all forms of abuse.

Bonded Child Labour: Parents forced to take a loan to feed their family or to meet their basic needs. When the loan is made, their child is forced to work as a way to repay the debt.

Children Used for Criminal Activity: Children used for the purpose of committing criminal acts under the custody of an adult(s) and/or other children.

Child Sexual Exploitation/ Child Prostitution: Child Sexual Exploitation consists of a child performing a sexual act in exchange for something of value for the benefit of an adult. Child prostitution consists of a child performing a sexual act in exchange for something of value (money, shelter, objects, etc). Child prostitutes/ children who are sexually exploited are often the victims of trafficking, impoverished situations and / or undocumented immigration. This includes victims of child pornography.
