Hong Kong – Disappearing children of Hong Kong forgotten in the protest chaos

September 7th, 2019 - A 15-year-old boy went to an outdoor film screening and didn't come home. Police took him away for wearing a face mask his father had told him to wear, worried about the tear gas that billows through Hong Kong's streets. His frantic parents were forced to go to the High Court to get him back. Two girls, aged 13 and 15, were arrested at the same place that night, August 29, but remain in a children's home, unable to attend the first week of school.
